2 weeks SR study: <https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/32004673/>

09:24:41 From Malgorzata Bala to Hosts and panelists:

Q: are any of those tools available for people from outside of the Bond University? What are the terms of use?

09:24:53 From Caroline Blaine to Everyone:

<https://sr-accelerator.com/#/methods-wizard>

09:25:42 From Hans Lund to Everyone:

SR Accelerator is an amazing help - try it today ;o)

09:26:12 From Caroline Blaine to Everyone:

Any questions for our speakers? Please add them as a “comment to everyone” on Zoom & start with “Q to xxx” so we know who it is for. You can add a chat message during the talks & as many as possible will be answered during the Q&A at the end of the session

09:28:20 From Mersiha to Everyone:

Q to Paul: What's the biggest progress to automations? Where is the highest potential for automation?

09:28:33 From Malgorzata Bala to Everyone:

Q&A @Paul Glasziou: Are any of those tools available for people from outside of the Bond University? What are the terms of use?

09:29:22 From Paul Glasziou to Everyone:

The tools are all freely available at the SRA website posted above, and there are some training tools also.

09:33:56 From Joeri Tjink to Hosts and panelists:

Hi

09:34:10 From Brunnhuber, Klara (ELS-LOW) to Hosts and panelists:

hi Joeri!!!

09:37:03 From Zoom-tech. Thale Åsli to Hosts and panelists:

Hi Joeri and Paul, we will spotlight you after Joeris video is done. then you can answer questions from Klara/Hans.

Thank you very much for all the links!

09:39:45 From Caroline Blaine to Everyone:

Any questions for our speakers? Please add them as a "comment to everyone" on Zoom & start with "Q to xxx" so we know who it is for. You can add a chat message during the talks & as many as possible will be answered during the Q&A at the end of the session

09:39:53 From Paul Glasziou to Everyone:

Notable also is the slow uptake of CONSORT (published 1996) with < 20%v in 2010-2018

09:43:47 From Judith ter Schure to Everyone:

Q to Paul: Do you know of any local (e.g. institution, funder) example that has gone through all the stages up to 'making it required', like on the level of the Medical Ethical Board or grant requirements? And was the timing of 'making it required' right, or too early, e.g. because doing systematic reviews is not that easy yet?

09:43:48 From Liliya Eugenevna Ziganshina to Everyone:

Thank you so so so much my dear dear friends!!! Missing you all so much!!!

09:55:07 From Judith ter Schure to Everyone:

Q to Joeri: Do you know of any funder that is open enough such that we can see whether they require a good quality systematic review before funding a new trial?

09:56:32 From Marija Franka Žuljević to Everyone:

Q to Joeri: How can we motivate a higher number of journals to require dataset sharing and study pre-registration in order to publish with them?

09:56:33 From Paul Glasziou to Everyone:

Hi Judith - many funders ask but not mandatory to have an SR; UK's NIHR does make it mandatory

09:57:29 From Hans Lund to Everyone:

Hi Judith: look here: <https://evir.org/>

09:58:12 From Joeri Tijdink to Everyone:

Hi Judith, we are trying hard to make researchers more transparent in their practices and they can do more, for example using a Research Integrity Lens in proposal evaluation, and do more in monitoring...

09:58:42 From Joeri Tijdink to Everyone:

We recently published some guidance on this that comes from the SOPs4RI project www.sops4ri.eu

10:00:13 From Kari Jeanette Langseth Hjelmén to Everyone:

To Joeri: With increased attention to young people mental health, education policy makers and practitioners increasingly inform themselves in RCT research. Clinical and School settings are very different, would you like to highlight any good role models for crossdisciplinary research in line with the topics you highlight in your presentation?

10:01:55 From Judith ter Schure to Everyone:

Q to Paul, Hans, Joeri: Great to see that there are pledges and recommendations, but are these funders (e.g. UK's NIHR) open enough such that we can monitor whether funded proposals indeed had good systematic review as motivation?

10:02:12 From Maria E Marqués to Everyone:

Just a quick general question: Will this chat be saved and available after the conference?

10:02:55 From Hans Lund to Everyone:

Yes - we save the chat, Maria

10:03:34 From Maria E Marqués to Everyone:

Great, Hans! Lots of interesting questions and info I wouldn't like to miss :)

10:04:02 From Hans Lund to Everyone:

Agree ;o)

10:19:11 From Judith ter Schure to Everyone:

Chris Chambers is also working on linking the methods review for funding to the in-principle acceptance for publication in the registered report setting.

Q to Jouri: anything like that in biomedical research?

10:21:31 From Joeri Tjink to Everyone:
